COLLECTION CHRISTMAS 2026

A festive collection of hand printed textiles and decorative details, beautifully crafted to create a memorable holiday home filled with warmth and tradition.

Christmas has always been very dear to me. Growing up in Sweden, it was the season my mother loved most, a time of family, food and traditions. She, my grandmother and my aunt were all very creative, and so much of our Christmas was made by hand: paper hearts and stars, decorations for candles and flowers, and little angels that were carefully saved and brought out year after year.

She is now 98 and still makes paper decorations, while my children help me with the final touches when they arrive home - deciding what should hang in the windows, decorating the house and sometimes making something new together. The tradition continues and evolves, a little like our Christmas collection.

This year's collection celebrates that feeling with block-printed textiles and decorative pieces designed for every part of the home. Tangier Pomegranate returns in a classic festive palette of rich red and green, while our Jaipur print is introduced in beautiful new seasonal shades, including deep Moss Green.

Alongside embroidered linen napkins and cushions combining soft velvet with hand-printed linen, the collection also includes handcrafted ornaments, decorative stars and paper goods for wrapping gifts and adding those final details. From the presents beneath the tree to a carefully dressed Christmas table, these are the small touches that make the season feel personal.

I love this time when the house slowly becomes ready for Christmas. Decorating is never something that happens in one day. It is a process of adding layers - a favourite textile, a handmade decoration, something old mixed with something new. The most beautiful homes are the ones that grow over time. They are filled with things that have been collected, created and loved - pieces that tell the story of the people who live there.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas arrives softly, in the glow of candlelight against winter windows, in evergreen branches and seasonal flowers gathered on the table, in linen touched by the hands of those we love. Rich reds, deep greens, and timeless patterns bring warmth to the season, while carefully wrapped gifts and quiet rituals turn ordinary moments into memories. A home filled with beauty, tradition, and the gentle magic of Christmas.

The Ancient Art of Woodblock Printing

Colors are blended by hand to get the right hue.

We are proud to preserve this ancient craft and bring it into modern homes.

Most Chamois textiles are handprinted using the ancient technique of woodblock printing. We develop our prints in collaboration with local artisans and family-run businesses. The entire process is done by hand, from carving the woodblocks and blending the colours to printing each textile.

This process is gentle on the environment, using very little water and electricity. The handmade nature of the craft makes every textile unique, and slight variations in colour and print are part of the beauty of a genuine hand-blocked product.

In a world increasingly filled with fast-paced consumer products, we are proud to preserve this ancient craft and bring it into modern homes around the world.
