COLLECTION

AUTUMN & WINTER 2026

Discover the art of timeless living, inspired by beauty, craftsmanship and collected memories.

At Stenkulla, my farmhouse in the south of Sweden, I notice the moment the seasons begin to change. The light becomes softer, the evenings darker, and life slowly moves indoors. We light candles, make a fire, and bring the colours of nature inside: ochre, moss green, old rose and warm earthy tones. The rhythm of the seasons has always guided the way I think about colour.

For this collection, we continue the story of Seven Sisters of Himalaya, inspired by my many years travelling and working in India. The name comes from the chatty, sociable Seven Sisters birds I always see when I stay at Samode Palace in the mountains outside Jaipur. They are as memorable as the architecture, old paintings, beautiful colours and patterns.

Like so much of what we do, I wanted this collection to celebrate the extraordinary beauty of Indian design and craftsmanship. That said, my eye is Swedish. I love the balance of Gustavian interiors - ornament and decoration, but always with a sense of calm. So the patterns I develop need to feel restful and easy to live with.

Colour is where each design truly comes alive. Every shade is developed by eye with our artisans in Jaipur, blended and adjusted by hand until it feels exactly right. This season we introduce new colourways of our beloved Parrot and Jaipur prints (including my favourite - Old Rose). New patterns include Pondicherry, a graceful arrangement of trailing flowers and scrolling stems, and Mira, a more ordered small scale print. I find these so useful when layering patterns. The collection also welcomes linen throws, reversible linen and velvet cushions, embroidered napkins and wool throws, designed to bring warmth and character to the home.

My hope is always that each collection has a long life. It's so important to me that the colours and patterns will sit naturally with pieces from previous seasons, becoming part of the Chamois family. They're made to be mixed, enjoyed and lived with for many years.

COLLECTION

SEVEN SISTERS OF HIMALAYA II

Step into a world of colour, pattern and collected memories. Inspired by years spent travelling and working in India, Seven Sisters of Himalaya celebrates the beauty of traditional craftsmanship - from the painted palaces of Jaipur to the hand-carved blocks of skilled artisans.

Richly decorative yet beautifully balanced, these are patterns created to bring joy, warmth and character into everyday life.

The Ancient Art of Woodblock Printing

Colors are blended by hand
to get the right hue.

We are proud to preserve this ancient craft and bring it into modern homes.

Most Chamois textiles are handprinted using the ancient technique of woodblock printing. We develop our prints in collaboration with local artisans and family-run businesses. The entire process is done by hand, from carving the woodblocks and blending the colours to printing each textile.

This process is gentle on the environment, using very little water and electricity. The handmade nature of the craft makes every textile unique, and slight variations in colour and print are part of the beauty of a genuine hand-blocked product.

In a world increasingly filled with fast-paced consumer products, we are proud to preserve this ancient craft and bring it into modern homes around the world.
